The test results specified in this document are the result of a free and voluntary service provided by TIGER Coatings GmbH & Co. KG and are merely provided by way of non-binding information. All tests have been conducted on a chromated aluminum test panel 0.7 mm in gauge under laboratory conditions.

The test results obtained are therefore not suitable for indicating actual on-site performance, e.g. adhesion to the substrate, weather resistance and the actual gloss and chalk resistance behaviour. The actual product performance may in some cases vary considerably due to actual processing and application influences. We accept no liability for the accuracy of the test results obtained.

kind regards
